

How to Prompt the Digital Front Door

Get the best health workforce resources – faster

Prompting is an Art: Every Artificial Intelligence and large language model responds a little differently. The Digital Front Door works best when you give clear, specific prompts - the more you try, the better your results.

START WITH A CLEAR GOAL

What exactly do you want?

- Avoid vague asks like “Tell me about nurses in Canada.”
- Example: “Find recruitment strategies for international educated nurses in Canada”.

ADD CONTEXT

Give background so the tool can focus on the right resources.

- This helps surface the most relevant information
- Example: “...in a rural area”

ASK FOR A FORMAT

Tell the Digital Front Door how to present the answer:

- Bullet points, short list, etc.
- Example: “Provide answer in bullet points.”

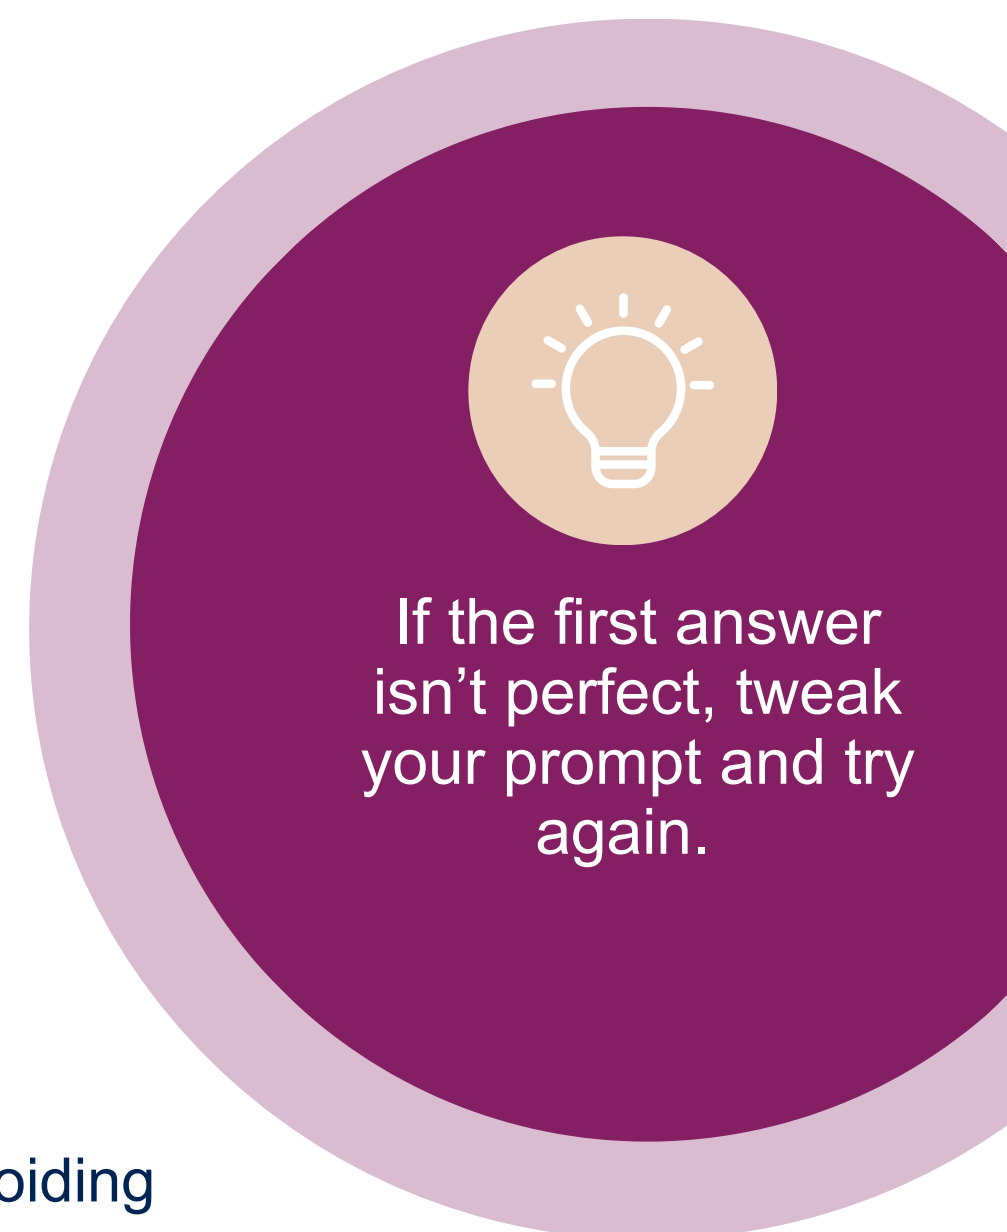

BE SPECIFIC

Include the topic, the audience and how much detail you want, avoiding vague or broad questions that can lead to unfocused answers.

EXAMPLES YOU CAN TRY

- “What programs, supports, and pathways exist to help IEHPs successfully join and practice within the Canadian health workforce?”
- “I am the nursing lead, where can I find resources to improve my leadership skills?”
- “Give three key takeaways from recent reports on health workforce planning on primary care, in bullet points.”

> Important

- ✓ The Digital Front Door always cites its sources – review them to verify accuracy and relevance.
- ✓ Use the Digital Front Door as a support tool, not a decision-maker. Always apply your own judgment.
- ✓ Health Workforce Canada Digital Front Door currently uses Claude 3.5 Sonnet.
- ✓ The Digital Front Door searches within curated health workforce resources - not the whole internet.

Health
Workforce
Canada

Effectif
de la santé
Canada